Cyber attacks are getting faster and more sophisticated every day. To protect critical infrastructure, essential institutions, and the communities they serve, you can't rely on ineffective cybersecurity.

The Security Foundation

WELCOME

We are delighted to host the 2024 Domestic Security Alliance Council (DSAC) Annual Meeting and The Security Foundation (TSF) Reception. This is the second time TSF has hosted this important information-sharing event.

DSAC's incredible network brings together private security leaders across all sectors to connect with experts in the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the U.S. Department of Homeland Security. These relationships—strengthened by DSAC's responsive and innovative programs and events—enable each of us to learn from others' experiences. The result is a stronger homeland security community and network, one that may better address our country's security crises, natural disasters, crime and other threats.

Thank you for your ongoing support of TSF, which funds public-private partnerships at home and abroad. Our mission is to create a safer, more secure and more connected world by convening exceptional partnerships like DSAC. Your generosity inspires the vital, selfless work of thousands of our nation's law enforcement organizations and private security leaders.

TSF Executive Director

“Security is a team sport. In challenging times, everyone needs to be working together. Target gives to The Security Foundation because TSF has our best interests in mind and because it’s an investment in people and the security industry. TSF supports programs that drive public-private partnerships to engage in meaningful work for the broader community.”

Mark Krause, Senior Director, Corporate Security, Target Corporation
TSF Board member

“DSAC is an incredibly valuable cause, and the ability to connect with so many companies, which are part of U.S. (and global) critical infrastructure, is important to CrowdStrike.”

Shawn Henry, Chief Security Officer, CrowdStrike

TSF’s Support of DSAC

The Security Foundation’s mission is to support U.S. organizations and citizens’ right to feel secure whether working or traveling at home or abroad. TSF brings its impartial approach and trusted role as a convener to connect the public and private sectors through partnerships like the Domestic Security Alliance Council (DSAC). We proudly support DSAC by sponsoring engagement, education symposia and security information exchange, including the DSAC Annual Meeting, Senior Leadership Exchange (SLX), Graduate Domestic Security Executive Academy, DSAC Regional Conferences and many networking opportunities.

Funds raised through the generous sponsorships of the 2024 DSAC Annual Meeting and TSF Reception—DSAC’s largest and most important annual event—enable TSF to help meet ongoing security-information needs and respond to new initiatives.

TSF funds various DSAC public-private partnership programs including the annual Graduate Domestic Security Executive Academy, a weeklong security leadership training program with the FBI (pictured). In addition to the DSAC Annual Meeting and TSF Reception, other sponsored events include Corporate Security Symposiums, regional conferences, local FBI Field Office meetings and other critical networking and benchmarking events.

This is the second year that TSF has sponsored the DSAC Annual Meeting and TSF Reception. We are proud to support this important conference bringing together private sector security with experts from the FBI and DHS to share important information with a shared goal of keeping Americans and U.S. interests at home safer and more secure.

TSF IMPACT

In 2023, The Security Foundation proudly added support of our nation’s premier domestic public-private partnership, the Domestic Security Alliance Council (DSAC), to our mission of protecting U.S. citizens and interests at home and abroad through education, information sharing, and funding security-related organizations. Our merger with the former Domestic Security Partnership (DSP) expands TSF’s goals of strengthening and expanding information-sharing programs in the U.S. and across the globe.

“TSF is a leader in convening and supporting the desire and need for enhanced public-private sector collaboration, whichs strengthen the dialogue so important to all of us and to the security of our nation.”
- Dave Komendat, TSF President
