WELCOME

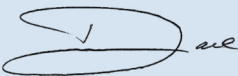

Welcome to The Security Foundation's (TSF) 13th annual dinner to celebrate public-private partnerships and the achievements of OSAC.

Tonight's event - the largest since TSF first hosted the dinner- embraces Secretary of State George P. Shultz's founding vision for OSAC as a groundbreaking public-private partnership to address U.S. global security needs and challenges. Together we share a common mission - to enable impactful collaboration throughout the security industry to ensure the security and safety of all Americans and American interests abroad.

Your support of this dinner and TSF's mission ensures that OSAC's programs, real-time information sharing and networking remains strong, resilient, and responsive. Our fellow citizens - and U.S. companies, faith-based and educational institutions, nonprofits, and non-governmental organizations that employ them - deserve nothing less.

Please join us in honoring OSAC's numerous achievements and the remarkable selfless service by the Diplomatic Security Service and OSAC's Program Office.

Enjoy the evening.

Keynote Speaker

Leon E. Panetta

Former Secretary of Defense, Former Director of the Central Intelligence Agency

Leon Panetta co-founded The Panetta Institute for Public Policy with his wife Sylvia in 1997 upon completion of his service as White House chief of staff in the Bill Clinton administration. He co-directed it with her until 2009, when he left to serve as CIA director and then secretary of defense under President Obama. He returned to the Institute as chairman in 2013.

A Monterey native and Santa Clara University School of Law graduate, Secretary Panetta began his public service career in 1964 as a U.S. Army intelligence officer receiving the Army Commendation Medal. Upon discharge he went to work in Washington as a legislative assistant to U.S. Senate minority whip Tom Kuchel of California. In 1969, he was appointed director of the U.S. Office for Civil Rights, where he was responsible for ensuring equal opportunity in public education, and later he served as executive assistant to the mayor of New York City. He then returned to Monterey, where he practiced law until his election to the U.S. House of Representatives in 1976.

Serving his Central Coast district in Congress for sixteen years, Secretary Panetta became a respected leader on agriculture, federal budget, ocean and healthcare issues, and from 1989 to 1993 he chaired the House Budget Committee. He won passage of the Hunger Prevention Act of 1988, Medicare and Medicaid coverage of hospice care for the terminally ill, and numerous measures to protect the California coast, including creation of the Monterey Bay National Marine Sanctuary.

In 1993, Secretary Panetta left Congress to serve as director of the Office of Management and Budget for the incoming Clinton administration. There, he was instrumental in developing the policies that led to a balanced federal budget and eventual budget surpluses. In 1994, he accepted appointment as the president's chief of staff, and is credited with bringing order and focus to White House operations and policy making.

Upon leaving the Clinton administration in 1997, Secretary Panetta joined with his wife Sylvia to create and co-direct The Panetta Institute for Public Policy, based at California State University, Monterey Bay. Reflecting the Secretary's ideals and personal example, the nonpartisan, not-for-profit study center seeks to attract thoughtful men and women to lives of public service and prepare them for the policy challenges of the future.

Secretary Panetta returned to public service at the start of the Barack Obama administration as director of the Central Intelligence Agency, where he supervised the operation to find and bring the international terrorist Osama bin Laden to justice. Then, as secretary of defense, he led efforts to develop a new defense strategy, conduct critical counter terrorism operations, strengthen U.S. alliances, and open military service opportunities to Americans regardless of gender or sexual orientation. He chronicles his life in public service in his best-selling memoir Worthy Fights, which was published by Penguin Press in 2014.

Over the years Secretary Panetta has served on numerous boards and commissions. He co-chaired California Forward, the Joint Ocean Commission Initiative, and Governor Schwarzenegger's Council on Base Support and Retention. In 2006 he served on the Iraq Study Group, a bipartisan commission seeking a new course for the war in Iraq. At present, he serves on the boards of directors for Oracle, Blue Shield of California and as co-chair of the Bipartisan Policy Center's Defense Personnel Task Force and the Center for Strategic and International Studies Commission on Countering Violent Extremism.

Secretary Panetta is the recipient of hundreds of awards and honors. Recent examples include the California Teachers Association's Friends of Education Award; the Judicial Council of California's Stanley Mosk Defender of Justice Award; the Harry S. Truman Good Neighbor Award; the Sons of Italy Foundation's National Education & Leadership Award; the Peter Benchley Ocean Award for Excellence in Policy; the Intelligence and National Security Alliance's William Oliver Baker Award; the OSS Society's William J. Donovan Award; and the National Defense Industrial Association's Dwight D. Eisenhower Award.

TSF IMPACT

In 2024, TSF's Board of Directors underwent a vigorous strategic planning process to set the course for the next three years. During this process, we updated our mission statement to better reflect the organization we have become. Our new mission statement, "Enabling impactful collaboration throughout the security industry" encompasses the important work that lies ahead for TSF.

At the intersection of the public and private sector, The Security Foundation is enabling a safer, more secure, more connected world for U.S. citizens and interests – now and into the future.

"TSF is a leader in convening and supporting the desire and need for enhanced public-private sector collaboration, which strengthens the dialogue so important to all of us and to the security of our nation."

TSF'S 2ND ANNUAL DIVERSITY, EQUITY, AND INCLUSION (DEI) SUMMIT

On May 14, 2024, The Security Foundation (TSF) convened its second annual DEI Summit in Arlington, VA. TSF welcomed its inaugural partners—ASIS, DSAC, OSAC, and ISMA—along with two new partners, Girl Security and the International Organization of Black Security Executives (IOBSE). The day was dedicated to celebrating the many achievements of our partner organizations, evaluating shared challenges, and reaffirming our joint commitment to increasing diversity in the security profession.

Launching the Security Coalition for Equitable Advancement (SCEA)

During the 2024 DEI Summit, TSF unveiled a new initiative: the Security Coalition for Equitable Advancement (SCEA), whose mission is to accelerate Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) across the security industry, fostering an environment where every individual can participate equitably.

SCEA prioritizes four main objectives:

1. To build a more diverse, inclusive, and equitable workforce reflective of the world we live in, across all echelons of the public and private security industry.
2. To capitalize on the opportunity that diverse thinking creates, thereby ensuring the most comprehensive and sophisticated protection against evolving and diverse threat agents.
3. To consistently communicate this DEI vision to key participants and decision makers across the security industry, encouraging accelerated progress, actionable programming, and measurable outcomes.
4. To create a cohesive approach to how we accelerate DEI progress in the security industry, effectively unifying industry leaders and professionals behind the cause.

Carly Coaty, TSF’s Director of Programs and leader of this initiative, stated, “Our partners continue to make significant strides since convening at the first DEI Summit, and their commitment is evident. TSF is proud to collaborate with like-minded stakeholders who are dedicated to making a meaningful impact and diversifying the security profession for the betterment of the industry.”

SCEA unveiled its roadmap at the DEI Summit, where members aligned new branding, messaging, and four key pillars: (1) Hiring and Recruitment, (2) Education and Training, (3) Marketing, and (4) Data and Research, which will serve as the committee focus areas.

Meta would like to congratulate TSF and OSAC on the 13th anniversary of their partnership.

At Meta, we believe in giving people the power to build community and bring the world closer together. This year, we celebrate the ongoing collaboration between TSF and OSAC as they work together to connect our communities in meaningful ways. We applaud OSAC's commitment to promoting security cooperation between the private sector and the U.S. Department of State and are proud to have such a strong partnership with this important institution.

Let's celebrate!
